

Central Wins

The football season of 1911 of the Kentucky colleges closed here this afternoon, and by defeating their old time rival, the Transylvania University, the championship of the season is left-up, with honors going to the State, Transylvania and Central Universities. The final score of the game today between the crimson and the cardinal and blue was 10 to 6 in favor of Central, but the visitors were lucky as the last three quarters of the game was played in the territory of the Davville team.

Two touchdowns were made in the first period of play proved sufficient for the Central eleven, but they were hard pressed throughout. Fumbles by the Transylvania players proved costly, and one touchdown was responsible to failure to hold onto the ball. Time and again the backs for Transylvania made big gains, but as they neared their opponents goal the crimson eleven faded and the game was lost.

Sad Case.

Last Monday, a man named Thomas Gilpin was sent from Burgin to the county farm. He was accompanied by his wife and brother. It takes an order from the county judge to gain admittance to the institution but the man was in such a deplorable condition that Supt. Kirkland very properly waived the order and took him in and notified the proper authorities. He also apprised them of the critical condition of the unfortunate, and a physician was sent out to attend him. Everything possible was done but Mr. Gilpin died of appendicitis in three hours after he reached the farm. He was about thirty years of age and was a citizen of Boyle county and had been in Burgin about three weeks. —Harrodsburg Herald.

ALFALFA AS FOOD

Surplus After Feeding Stock Can Be Used For Biscuit

Pierre, S. D., Nov. 29.
Mark C. Rich, of Hot Springs, has been talking the virtues of Alfalfa as a food product so long that he has determined to give the people of the world an opportunity to test out his new product as he finds it, and as a result articles have been filed for the "Rich Alfalfa Tea Company" at Hot Springs with a capital of $40,000.

The directors of the new company are F. W. Bower, N. G. Bower, Deadwood; Mark C. Rich, Hot Springs.

The new company is to manufacture and deal in alfalfa tea, syrup, breakfast food, meal bread and cakes, biscuits and other alfalfa products.

Rich has for several years been attempting to get the western part of the State to take up alfalfa as a food product, and continuing to give evidence of his belief in it by eating it in all kinds of forms in which he could think of for preparing it for human food, and now he has determined to get the product upon the market as human as well as animal food, and show the world what he has developed in this direction. —Frankfort News Journal.

grains as much as possible the business of the first is a few central points. The step on the part of the whiskey people, means a great loss to our New Hope and Coon Hollow. These plants in former years not only scattered a considerable amount of money among the people at these places, but they also offered a ready market for all the corn and rye raised in the neighborhood. The familiar sign of the coon perched high on the distillery plant at Coon Hollow will be missed by the traveling public who enjoyed seeing it as they passed on the train.

TOURNAMENT

Educational Tournament A Grand Success.

The educational tournament held at Tatham Springs, Friday, Dec 1st, was a decided success. The occasion was well attended and the two divisions had made ample preparation for the upcoming struggle for supremacy.

There were parents and children on the ground by sun-up, it was evident that the crowd would be very large.

Because of the tardiness of some of the officers the meeting was not called to order until 9:30 o'clock, when Deacon Clay Foster conducted devotional services.

Immediately after devotional services, the day's work was begun, and forty boys and girls from the two divisions lined up for the spelling contest of pupils under eleven years. The contest was close, resulting in Little Miss Ruby Colvin of the Williamsburg school, and Louise Perkins of the Caldwell school remaining on the floor. Finally Ruby missed and Louise was declared the winner.

Then a dozen little boys from the various schools took their places for the recitation contest. Little Johnnie Smothers clearly won, but Cecil Derr and Hartford Scott deserve special mention.

In the spelling contest of pupils over eleven years thirty-five pupils of the two divisions contested, Miss Hettie Naby of the Carver school was declared the winner.

Eighteen little girls under the age of eleven won lined up, and almost that number of mammas showed the greatest anxiety for the result of this recitation contest. Miss Louise Perkins was declared the winner, while Ruby Colvin, Lillian Keating and Nellie Hyatt of the Williamsburg school won the favor of the audience.

Past noon, dinner was announced and it took fully twenty-five minutes to empty the large and commodious kitchen.

There was dinner for everybody, fully a half acre of ground was covered with grub, besides, many spread their dinner in the hotel dining-room. One of the most enjoyable features of the day was the 100 yard foot-race which was won by Homer Burkhead, of the Pleasant Hill school. The two divisions formed two lines, one at Haydon & Willett and the other at the south end of the track.

Tobacco Market Opens

The tobacco market opened last Tuesday. Owing to the fact that the weather has not been so cold the offerings were light, however the prices fairly good ranging from $3 to $18.

The Planters House reports the sale of about 6,000 pounds of tobacco at fairly good prices. The offerings were mostly of medium, red crop, there being no fancy tobacco on the market.

With the opening of a good season it is expected that the offerings will be better and consequently better prices will prevail.

The Washington County House reports the sale of 21,700 pounds on opening day. Prices were very satisfactory for tobacco of merit and ranged from $3 to $18.

The crop of J. R. Barnes of Texas, consisting of 3855 pounds sold at prices ranging from 5 to 18 cents averaging $12.25 per hundred.

There were good sales both at the Springfield and Farnsboro Houses and tobacco sold well, however we were unable to get the number of pounds sold at these houses.

"Did the Guileys have much trouble in arranging their separation?" "No. At least, not until they reached the child. They have been child, you know." "How about the dogs?" "That was easy. They had two dogs."

It has been discovered that the eye will cure a headache. It performs itself as a medicine upon the nerves. The cure—particularly if they are—restores the system, through the eye, and its circulation and medicinal properties, gives a job upon the system not only as a curative, but as a tonic.
